

Nadia Francavilla is one of Canada's leading performers and advocates of new contemporary music. A renowned violinist, she brings rare and overlooked works to New Brunswick audiences; commissions new works particularly from Canadian women composers; and brings together collaborators across a spectrum of artistic disciplines to push the boundaries of music as performance art.

She can be reached online at www.nadiafrancavilla.com